INDIAN JEWELLERY AND THE PORTUGUESE DURING THE RISE OF THE MUGHAL EMPIRE

MIA Auditorium

For the final lecture in celebration of the Qatar-India 2019 Year of Culture and our special exhibiton Set in Stone: Gems and Jewels of Royal Indian Courts, we are delighted to welcome Hugo Miquel Crespo, Researcher at the Centre of History for the University of Lisbon. This lecture will cover the Portuguese voyages of exploration which culminated in the establishment of an annual maritime route to India and dramatically increased European access to gemstones, namely to the famous Golconda diamonds. This period, which witnessed the rise of the Mughals, was also a time when Indian jewellery first arrived to Europe via the India

Run. Conversely, the arrival of exotic European objects from Goa at the court of Akbar caused a sensation, and had a profound and lasting influence on Mughal courtly art, as did the introduction of European jewellery and lapidary techniques.
